Benefit from Professional Instruction

"Golf for Life" camps are taught by the Bullseye Golf Foundation. The Bullseye Golf Foundation is a not for profit organization that is supported by the United States Golf Association, the PGA of America Foundation, Wadsworth Golf Charities, the Callaway Golf Foundation and local Community Foundations. The mission of the program is to improve the lives of participants through a rounded education in recreation (golf), core values (honesty, respect, character, and education), and life skills (creating positive relationships and decision making).

PGA Professionals with years of teaching and coaching experience run the program. The camps incorporate the "Best Practices" of top Jr. programs from around the country. Lead Professionals include PGA Professional Doug Temple, PGA Professional Dr. Pete Bishop and Golf Professional Jason Cheesebro. The teaching staff for the "Golf for Life" programs have over 50 years combined teaching experience and all instructors are "Golf for Life" certified instructors. Regardless of your ability or knowledge of the game the "Golf for Life" program has something for everyone.
